

Your Enrollment Form

The purpose of this form is for you to instruct your employer to deduct part of your current pay for contribution into your Plan account. You will generally not owe federal income tax on the amounts that you defer (within IRS limits), or on the earnings of those investments, until these amounts are distributed to you from the Plan. You may revoke the contribution election that you make at any time. Contributions to your account will be made going forward by reductions from your paycheck each pay period. You may elect a percentage of your salary prorated for each pay period.

AUTHORIZATION Note: PLEASE RETURN THIS FORM TO YOUR EMPLOYER AND RETAIN A COPY FOR YOUR RECORDS

I hereby authorize my employer to defer a portion of my compensation not yet earned and contribute the amounts deferred to the Plan as elective contributions, in accordance with my election indicated above.

Employee Signature: _____ Date: _____

EMPLOYER: Please process this employee's enrollment and retain a copy of this form in the employee's personnel file.

When it comes to investing, time is a powerful ally. Compounding may go a long way toward helping you with your retirement goals. Compound earnings are the growth on your original contributions as well as the previous growth earned on those assets. It may not seem like much in the early days, but compounding can really add up! Check out the table below to see how. This example assumes a $50,000 annual wage.

Contribution Rate	Age	Assumed annual rate of return
		4%	6%	8%
5% (approximately $208 per month)	20	$313,934	$573,246	$1,097,251
	25	$245,823	$414,230	$726,214
	30	$190,040	$296,340	$477,174
	35	$144,352	$208,939	$310,020
